

C G JUNG INSTITUTE OF CHICAGO

ATTACHMENT IN PSYCHOTHERAPY

with

David Wallin, Ph.D.

Friday, December 10, 2010 2:00 pm to 5:00 pm

“If you transpose a lot of what the relational, intersubjective theorists have to say about how the therapy process works to the developmental context provided by attachment theory, you’ve got an extraordinarily rich framework for guiding your interventions in psychotherapy.”

~ David Wallin

Parent-child attachment research offers a scientific basis for understanding suffering, but also the healing and growth we clinicians hope to facilitate. In this lecture, Dr. Wallin will deliver the basics of attachment theory’s implications for psychotherapy. How are we real with one another? What are our approaches to working with our patients in psychotherapy and psychoanalysis? What are our patterns of attachment?

LOCATION

Loyola University Water Tower Campus, Lewis Towers, 111 E. Pearson, Chicago IL – 16th Floor
- Click HERE for Map -

DISCUSSION FEE

$60 – 3 CE credits

$30 for students

For all registrations visit www.jungchicago.org

Learning Objectives:

- Review major developments in attachment theory from Bowlby to Main, Fonagy, and beyond
- Become familiar with the basics of attachment theory
- Learn how the attachment perspective enriches our work with clients

David Wallin, PhD, is an author and clinical psychologist in private practice in Mill Valley and Albany, CA. A graduate of Harvard who received his doctorate from the Wright Institute in Berkeley, he has been practicing, teaching, and writing about psychotherapy for nearly three decades. Attachment in Psychotherapy, his most recent book, is presently being translated into seven languages. Dr. Wallin lectures on attachment and psychotherapy in Europe, Canada, Australia, and throughout the United States. For further information, please visit www.attachmentinpsychotherapy.com.

The C. G. Jung Institute of Chicago is approved by the American Psychological Association to sponsor continuing education for psychologists and by the Illinois Department of Professional Regulation to provide continuing education (CE) credit for social workers, professional counselors and marriage and family therapists. The Institute maintains responsibility for this program and its contents.